Watch Phantogram's Cinematic New "Funeral Pyre" Video

"A phantom drive in a land of nowhere, where love meets grief, loneliness, violence and desperation"

Phantogram

Phantogram have shared a new video for their song "Funeral Pyre." The cinematic clip was directed by Gianluca Minucci. It follows various people in Los Angeles from the view out of a car window. In a statement, Minucci describes it as "a phantom drive in a land of nowhere, where love meets grief, loneliness, violence and desperation." He continues, "It's a tragic, Pynchonian elegy, of a world destined to a destroying, but perhaps purifying, fire. A descent to hell, the swan song of a city that celebrates its funeral pyre." Watch the video below.

"Funeral Pyre" appears on Phantogram's latest album, 2016's Three. They are currently on tour; find their full itinerary here.
